when you're turned on, nerves fire in your brain and travel down your spinal cord to your penis.

people who have experience working with deafblind people might find it will be the harder task to try to re-engage with the same energy they had before.

There is no sweetness here at all.