the justice department opposed the state's photo identification requirement for voting after concluding it would be harmful to minority voters, he said.

i remember the good times and the kick start its festival gave me