the availment of outpatient and inpatient services shall be intensively promoted

"I'm not going to vouch today for what happens months down the road, but it's a good beginning, and we should welcome a good beginning."

about 20 percent of the men had low sperm counts, although they hadn’t been diagnosed as infertile to foresee and control the effect of artificial insertion of foreign genes.